

SAMHAIN-HALLOWE'EN KIDS' POSTER/MOVIE COMPETITION

AN BHFUL FHIOS AGAT? DID YOU KNOW?

Ireland is the original home of Hallowe'en, known in the Irish language as Samhain (pronounced SOW-in). It was an important time of year for the Celts, the people who lived in Ireland, and today we still like to dress up and celebrate with friends and family.

PUIMCINÍ NÓ TORNAPA? PUMPKINS OR TURNIPS?

At Hallowe'en time, Irish people carved hand-held lanterns named 'Jack O' Lanterns' using turnips and they brought that tradition with them wherever they travelled across the world. If they couldn't find turnips, beets or large potatoes, they used pumpkins!

BOB NÓ BIA? TRICK OR TREAT?

Trick-or-treating dates back to when Irish people would visit neighbours requesting food, known as 'soul cakes', as prayers for their loved ones who had passed.
